

Report to the US Embassy in Moldova and National Coalition 2016 Domestic Violence Speakers Program

19 – 22 April, 2016

Chisinau, Moldova

Introduction

Karen Tronsgard-Scott of the Vermont Network Against Domestic and Sexual Violence collaborated with the Secretariat of the National Coalition to End Family Violence in Moldova to develop a three-day intensive and interactive training session conducted 19 – 22, April, 2016.

Karen Tronsgard-Scott extends her heartfelt thanks to Ludmila Bilevschi and Lauren Perlaza of the United States Embassy in Moldova; and to Angelina Zaporojan-Pirgari, Eleonora Grosu, and Veronica Vition of Women's Law Center, and to the members of the Coalition.

Goals and Objectives

The Goal of the Domestic Violence Speakers Program was to strengthen the Moldovan Domestic Violence Coalition.

Objectives including building internal capacity by strengthening the leadership of the coalition members; strengthening the coalition by building the relationships between coalition members; expanding the knowledge and skills of the coalition members in relation to working in coalition; expanding the impact of the coalition by creating a two year plan for its priority activities.

The detailed training schedule, including the original and amendments, is attached in the Appendix.

Activities and Achievements

Members made a serious commitment to this training, arriving on time and staying present throughout. The Women's Law Center made it possible for participants to stay overnight in Chisinau.

Day One Activities and Achievements

Day one began with a welcoming breakfast hosted by Julie Stuftt, the Deputy Chief of Mission at the U.S. Embassy. She welcomed participants into her home and then came to the training site to welcome participants to the training.

The goal for Day One was to engage members of the coalition as leaders. Activities included:

1. An overview of the three days.
2. Introductions by each of the members in attendance.
3. Discussion – Characteristics of a Contributing Coalition Member. Karen presented research on the characteristics of highly successful groups from a study conducted by Google. This study determined that, contrary to what might be assumed, the highest functioning groups are not comprised of the most skilled workers, but of groups wherein there is a high degree of self-control (as evidenced by the fact that all members spoke for roughly the same amount of time at meetings); trust; empathy; and unity and focus. Members of the coalition created a list of the characteristics which they considered to be important to their work as a group:

- Trust
- Focus on purpose
- Equality
- Skills related to leadership, facilitation, negotiation, conflict resolution
- Content knowledge
- Flexibility and willingness to compromise

During this exercise an issue for the coalition was named, which involved a meeting of the coalition in January wherein some members acted out with anger. This issue was raised and discussed with commitments to come to meetings in a frame of mind to discuss and not shout, and to communicate using ethical communication guidelines.

This issue speaks to the need for further relationship building and practice among the members of the coalition.

Members also discussed why the coalition was formed including the desire to speak with a unified, strong voice; to affect changes within laws, policies and practices; to create a network of quality services across Moldova; to build the capacity of individual members; and to exchange information about practices.

4. Coalition members learned techniques for maintaining a strong, balanced stance and discussed leadership achievements with each other.
5. The coalition succeeded in surfacing some underlying issues and in describing how they might come to the coalition in a highly functioning way.

Day Two Activities and Achievements

The original goal of Day Two of the training was to expand the knowledge and skills of the coalition members in relation to working in coalition by engaging them in a series of small group activities. These activities were designed to help them to identify and explore the core strengths of the coalition; the roles of individual coalition members and the strategies needed to achieve the purpose of the coalition. At the request of the Secretariat, the day's agenda was amended:

Day Two Amended Schedule:

1. Welcome and Comments
2. Strategic Operations – presentations
3. Planning in small groups

Activities included:

1. Strategic Operations - Karen presented a detailed overview of the Vermont Network, its functioning and achievements. Angelina Zaporozhan-Pirgari presented an overview of the achievements of the coalition. Florence Tercier Holst-Roness and Mia Vukojevic of the Oak Foundation presented on their experiences with similar coalitions in other countries.'
2. Planning – Florence and Mia of the Oak Foundation facilitated the formation of small groups and charged the groups with creating a model for the future of the coalition. The groups spent the afternoon of day two working on their proposals.

Day Three Activities and Achievement

The goal of Day Three was to create a strategy plan for the next three years.

Activities included:

1. The groups formed on Day Two finished their work and presented their proposals:

Group One – This group envisioned the coalition within the existing structure of the General Assembly, the Secretariat and the Board.

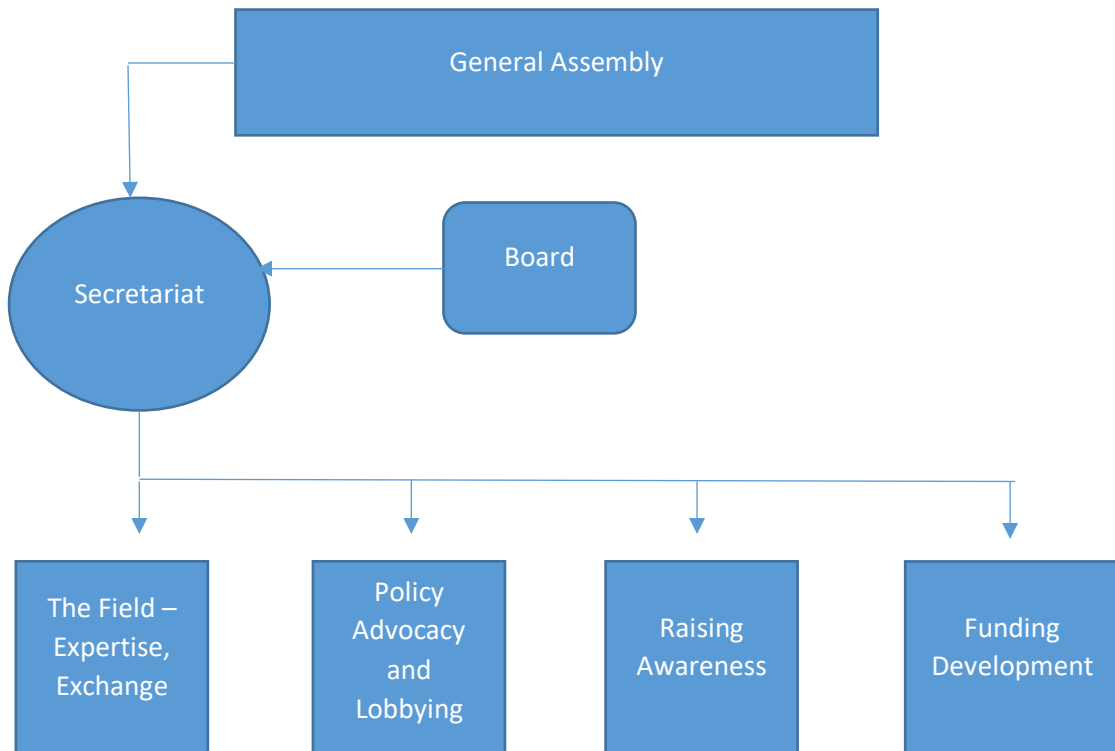

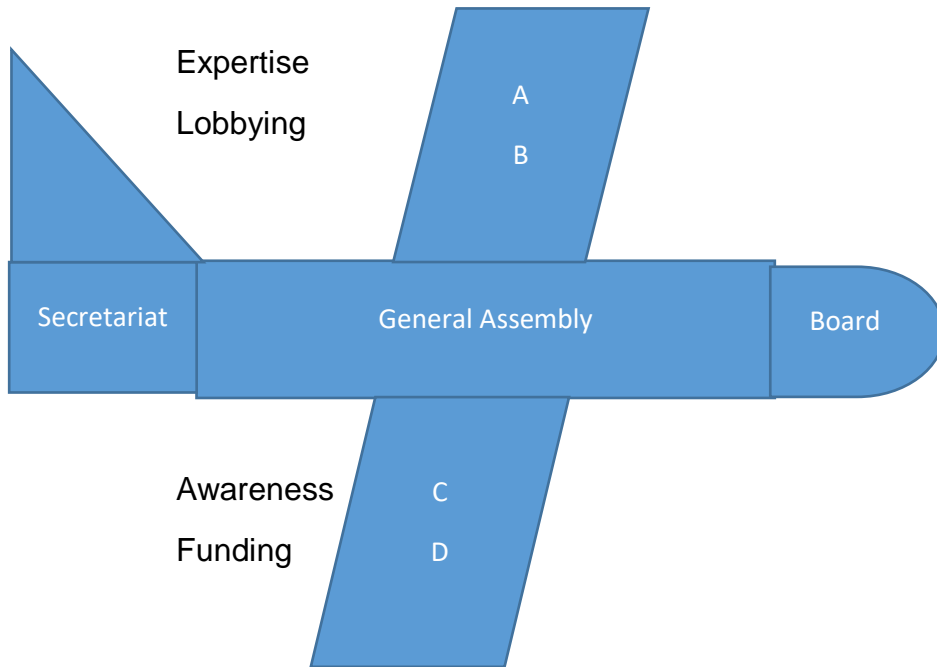

- General Assembly – comprised of the entirety of the membership including NGO's, hotlines, shelters and lobbying organizations. Work is completed through small work groups. Each member designates a single person who attends coalitions meetings.
- Secretariat – this role is based on impartiality and needs further development. Questions included, “Is the Secretariat a member of the coalition?”; “What skills and knowledge is required to hold this role?”; “How does the Secretariat embody transparency, manage disputes, promote the coalition over their own organization, manage the finances, involve the coalition in decision making?”

Recommendations of Group One

- Provide the coalition with a regular financial report based on a budget
- Coordinate events among the membership and Secretariat to maximize the impact
- Promote the separate and distinct identity of the coalition
- Create a platform for sharing information among the members and to bring outside expertise to the coalition
- Register the coalition with the Ministry of Justice

Group Two – This group used an analogy of an airplane to describe the coalition:

Recommendations of Group Two

- Reorganize the Secretariat as an administrative function
- Appoint people and not organizations to the board
- Attend to all four areas equally
- Coordinate the pace of the coalition together.

Group Three – This group addressed issues which they felt inhibit the functioning of the coalition and identified actions to mitigate these issues.

Recommendations of Group Three

- Membership – amend the current regulation to allow organizations with less than three years of existence to be members of the coalition.
- Create a Secretariat which is administrative in nature
- Focus the work of workgroups under the authority of the board
- Provide detailed agendas for all meetings.
- Improve the efficiency of communication between members and between members and the Secretariat
- Determine leadership roles and structures within the coalition and in the absence of a larger role for the Secretariat
- Create a report on the coalition that includes the main achievements of the members
- Conduct a needs assessment among the members and create a map of services
- Identify future resources to support members
- Center victims in all work

Group Four – This group analyzed current coalition operations and provided proposals for the future.

Structures:

General Assembly

- The current General Assembly required greater development of the roles and responsibilities of members. The GA must assert the equality of all members.
- The General Assembly must approve and embody the Declaration of Regulations, Mission and Vision of the coalition.
- The General Assembly elects the board
- The General Assembly mobilizes and carries out activities.
- The General Assembly is responsible for coordinating outreach activities
- The General Assembly drafts and approves all legal documents

Board

- The Board has authority over all working groups,
- The Board provides ad hoc comments on coalition documents
- The Board has authority of all internal policies, i.e. communication, membership, etc.
- The Board drafts all legal documents or assigns a drafter.
- The Board represents the coalition at events (and not their own organizations)

Recommendations of Group Four:

- Close the membership for a period of two years in order to allow the coalition the time needed to move to its next level and organize itself.

- Form working groups comprised of coalition members (each member is on at least one group) and provide these groups with a specific charge, time line, and accountability plan.
- Develop clear criteria and processes for excluding or sanctioning members of the coalition. Each member will undergo a formal and regular reflection and evaluation of the membership. Develop a special team to conduct these reviews comprised of board members, and a neutral person from outside the coalition.
- The Secretariat supports the General Assembly, administers the coalition, maintains minutes, documentation and schedules, convenes meetings, completes logistics for coalition events, and all other duties related to helping the coalition to fulfill its mission. The Secretariat is not the leader of the coalition.

Ideally, the Secretariat is an independent agency with a budget and staff. For the time being the Secretariat must be located within an organization which has the capacity to play this role. The leader of this host agency must be explicit about their role – at times they will be representing the coalition and at times they will be representing their agency. They should not do both at the same time. The board will assist the Secretariat in fulfill the role with respect to the coalition.

- The Board meets monthly, the General Assembly meets every 6 months plus ad hoc sessions as needed.

2. Formation of Work groups – the coalition formed three work groups:

- a. Standards – this group will create standards for providing services which will be mandatory for all coalition members.
- b. Structure – this group will examine all coalition structures and regulations and make recommendations for amendments an updates.
- c. Transition Team – this group, comprised of the current board, the leader of the structure work group, and the Secretary of the coalition, will oversee the work groups and support the development of a map of current resources (providers); a plan for integrating beneficiaries in the coalition structure; conduct a needs assessment; and hold the need to examine funding and funding development in the future.

3. Coalition Structure Amendments – the coalition agreed to the following structural changes:

- a. Fiscal Host – the Fiscal Host will be an organization that has the capacity for this role, meets all regulatory requirements, uses a procurement procedure, and undergoes an audit. It will be compensated for administrative costs at a rate of 3% when possible. For now, this role will be fulfilled by the Women’s Law Center

- b. Secretary – The Secretary is accountable to the coalition board. The Secretary is responsible for facilitating meetings, coordinating activities, and reporting to the board. The Secretary will be paid by the Fiscal Host and they may be responsible for fund raising and fund development. For now the Secretary of the Coalition is Veronica Vition.

Recommendations

The coalition stands today at a cross roads. The future of this coalition exists only if it moves to its next level. To stay where it is today or to go backwards means that the coalition will dissolve. In order to move forward, the following must occur:

1. The members of the coalition must deepen their relationships. Too often poor communication results in conflict. Trust must be built and through this trust, the coalition will be able to focus on its mission. This is the top priority.
2. The coalition has developed approaches for building sustainable structures. The members of the work groups must feel obligated to fulfill the mandates of these groups and must consider how this work will forward the mission of the organization (and not their individual organizations).
3. The members of the coalition must make a commitment to each other and to creating a coalition that helps all members.
4. The coalition should begin to build the resources necessary to create a separate NGO for the coalition.
5. The coalition has created a model for the Fiscal Host which is unknown in Moldova, so it will have to look to other countries to gain an understanding of how this model works.
6. Coalition members work in relative isolation in their communities. The Secretary can help to ameliorate this isolation by visiting each member organization, in person, and with the purpose of gaining an understanding of the work, challenges and achievements of each member organization.
7. Develop the leadership strengths of the Secretary – Veronica Vition is a talented and shining leader. She would benefit from leadership coaching and skill building opportunities.
8. Expand the knowledge and practice of the coalition through a learning exchange to the United States comprised of:
 - a. Training in coalition building with the Vermont Network
 - b. Expansion of skills in systems change by partnering with Moldovan law enforcement officers in this learning exchange and attending a training of law enforcement officers while in Vermont.,
 - c. Visit an emerging national coalition in Washington, D.C.
 - d. This visit would also provide an opportunity for deep relationship building.

Respectfully submitted:

Karen Tronsgard-Scott
